FOUNDER

Leo High School

WE DEDICATE this eighteenth volume of The Lion to Right Reverend Monsignor Peter F. Shewbridge, Founder of our school, who, for fifty years has consecrated his abundant energy and mental endowments to the care of souls and the promotion of Catholic education.

For the past twenty years, Monsignor has given regular religious instruction to the students in Leo High School, and has evidenced at all times an abiding interest in our educational progress as well as in our school games. Moreover, he has furnished our school with the latest and best in educational equipment and plans for further improvement will be put into execution when present economic restrictions are removed.

The graduates of nineteen hundred and forty-seven shall forever cherish fond memories of this zealous priest and sincere friend, and wish him many more years of health and accomplishment in the holy priesthood.

For God and Country

The Catholic School

St. Luke, the evangelist, referring to the boyhood of Christ, wrote in his gospel, "And Jesus advanced in wisdom, and age, and grace with God and men." To advance thus is the purpose of the catholic school. It is the fourfold development of man—advancing in wisdom, or mental development: advancing in age, or physical development; advancing in grace with God, or spiritual development; and advancing with men, or social development.

It is this philosophy that the founder of Leo High School wished to promulgate when he undertook the construction of a catholic school. Faith alone impresses on the catholic the need for such an undertaking. Reason alone could never give the unbeliever any concept of the promise that revelation brings to the christian, nor could it bring a conscious realization of the life to be lived here and now. It is only in the catholic school one learns the depths of degradation to which he falls, and the heights of sanctity to which he climbs—the doctrine of original sin on the one hand, and that of divine grace on the other, being the solution of these mysteries. If revelation did not give us the mystery most removed from our knowledge, that of original sin; we could never hope to know ourselves, and although nothing shocks us so rudely as this mystery, without it we would be incomprehensible to ourselves.

The courses in Leo High School are designed to give its students an elementary knowledge of the teachings of the Church, embracing the creed, the commandments, the sacraments, and prayer. Armed with this knowledge, the first Leo graduates of the atomic age need not fear the crisis of civilization precipitated by the release of atomic energy. The unbeliever may dread a calamity as destructive as the deluge of old, the rulers of the world may gather feverishly round conference tables to discover means of controlling the monster that science has happened upon, but the catholic school can give them the answer—the only power than can keep man from misusing his new knowledge of the laws of nature, is the application to his own conduct of the laws of God.

THE LION

WE PRESENT the record of the school year, 1946-1947. We have endeavored to crystallize into this volume the Leo school spirit, expressed through the medium of pictures, statistics, and editorials. May we bespeak a favorable reception of our efforts from parents, friends, and admirers.

The s'udents of Leo are shown at work and at play. School work today is a vital thing. It is a measure of tomorrow's peace, and play is one index of the free spirit upon which our democratic faith is founded.

We found the editing of the annual an exciting and pleasurable task. The compilation of the dummy taxed our ingenuity. The designing of album pages, panel pages, and layouts as well as the arrangement of copy was a rich school of experience. We obtained valuable insight into business methods from our contact with printer, photographer, engraver, and cover maker. We hope that this pictorial treatment of our final year at Leo may tend to preserve the spirit of free education upon which our democracy so largely depends.

The high quality pictures in the annual are the product of the Root Studio, 185 North Wabash Avenue. We do not know which to admire the more—the courtesy with which we were treated or the promptness with which the service work was executed.
